STATINTL   [   ] D/OCI, tells me that he perceives a need for a course on computer science especially designed for senior officers. He thinks there would be considerable interest throughout the Agency in such a course, and I take it that he would see to it that OCI was well represented. He suggests five half-days from 10:00 to 3:00 so that the students can be at their desks at the beginning and end of the day. Let me know if you see any chance of developing such a course; you might discuss it with him and ask him to assess the interest among his colleagues.
